E-mail blast

Whether it's an invitation to visit your booth or to promote your satellite symposium at Charing Cross, we can email all registered delegates with your message. This will be sent in the form of a jpg file that will include your text and graphics. If you wish to target a larger audience than the registered delegates, we can also email to our Vascular News subscription list of 8,000 vascular specialists from all across Europe.

To CX delegates £1,700

To entire subscriber list of 8000 Vascular Specialists across Europe £4,000

Learning Centres

Purpose-built, fully equipped rooms easily accessible from the exhibition hall. The Learning Centres, with seating for 60-80, are ideal for product launches, meet-the-expert sessions and presentations to the expert audience at Charing Cross. Sessions are available in two-hour slots (including preparation and breakdown) and discounts are offered for multiple sessions. Learning centres can be booked on an hourly or daily basis. Price on application

Educational Grants

There are only a very limited number of opportunities to include additional presentations in the 33rd Charing Cross International Symposium and all proffered papers relating to a manufacturer's technology require the support of the company via an educational grant. Our policy is to charge £5,000 for a 9 minute talk. This provides a great communication platform not only to the 1,500+ vascular specialists that will be attending but to the entire vascular and interventional community. We will cover the entire proceeding of the 33rd Charing Cross International Symposium in our three newspapers (Cardiovascular News, Interventional News and Vascular News) that are distributed to more than 20,000 specialists across Europe and North America. £5,000
